

The Lyle Makosky Values and Ethics in Sport Fund

Are you currently active in sport?

Are you currently studying at the post-secondary level in an area that relates to values and ethics in sport?

Do you think that sport is not achieving or delivering the experience that it could or should for values-based or ethical reasons?

Do you believe that Canadian sport is facing important values-based or ethical challenges that are not being fully addressed and maybe not even seen?

If the above questions resonate, then there is an opportunity for you to apply for this sport study scholarship!

PURPOSE

This national sport studies scholarship is intended to stimulate thoughtful examination of values-based and ethical sport.

It was established in 2014 by Lyle Makosky to help support the work of the True Sport Foundation (TSF) and the Canadian Centre for Ethics in Sport. The fund's capital is held and invested by the Community Foundation of Ottawa and annual earnings are used by the TSF to support financial awards in the area of values and ethics in sport with the intent to support:

- The critical examination of and an open dialogue on the compelling values-based and ethical challenges in today's sport;
- Protecting and enhancing the quality and value of the sport experience from ethical threats;
- Ensuring the integrity of the conduct of sport; and
- Watching over the values, ethical codes, and principles on which sport is founded.

SCHOLARSHIP DETAILS

Candidate Eligibility

- Must be a Canadian citizen or permanent resident;
- Must be active in Canadian sport; as an athlete, practitioner (coach, official, administrator) or educator (teacher, university or college faculty, etc.); and
- If an athlete, must be engaged in post-secondary education.

Candidate Prioritization

Eligible candidates will be prioritized according to the following:

ABOUT LYLE MAKOSKY

As an Assistant Deputy Minister (ADM) with the Government of Canada, Mr. Makosky designed and directed the Health Department's corporate, multi-year, strategic planning exercise, the most comprehensive and far reaching in the department's history. As ADM for Fitness and Amateur Sport (1986 - 1993), he guided the reformulation of federal policy and programs culminating in a new federal-provincial framework and landmark federal sport policy, co-authored the Task Force Report "Sport – The Way Ahead," and helped lead the movement to control drugs in sport worldwide.

Makosky also served as national Executive Director of four national, non-profit sport associations, successfully establishing their governance and cross-Canada programs during their formative years. He has demonstrated a life-long commitment to Canadian sport while involved as a national athlete, coach, official and executive in many fields of sport.

ABOUT THE TRUE SPORT FOUNDATION

The True Sport Foundation is a national charitable organization that promotes values-driven sport. As a leader in the True Sport Movement, the Foundation is committed to ensuring that sport makes a positive contribution to Canadian society, to our athletes and to the physical and moral development of Canada's youth.
